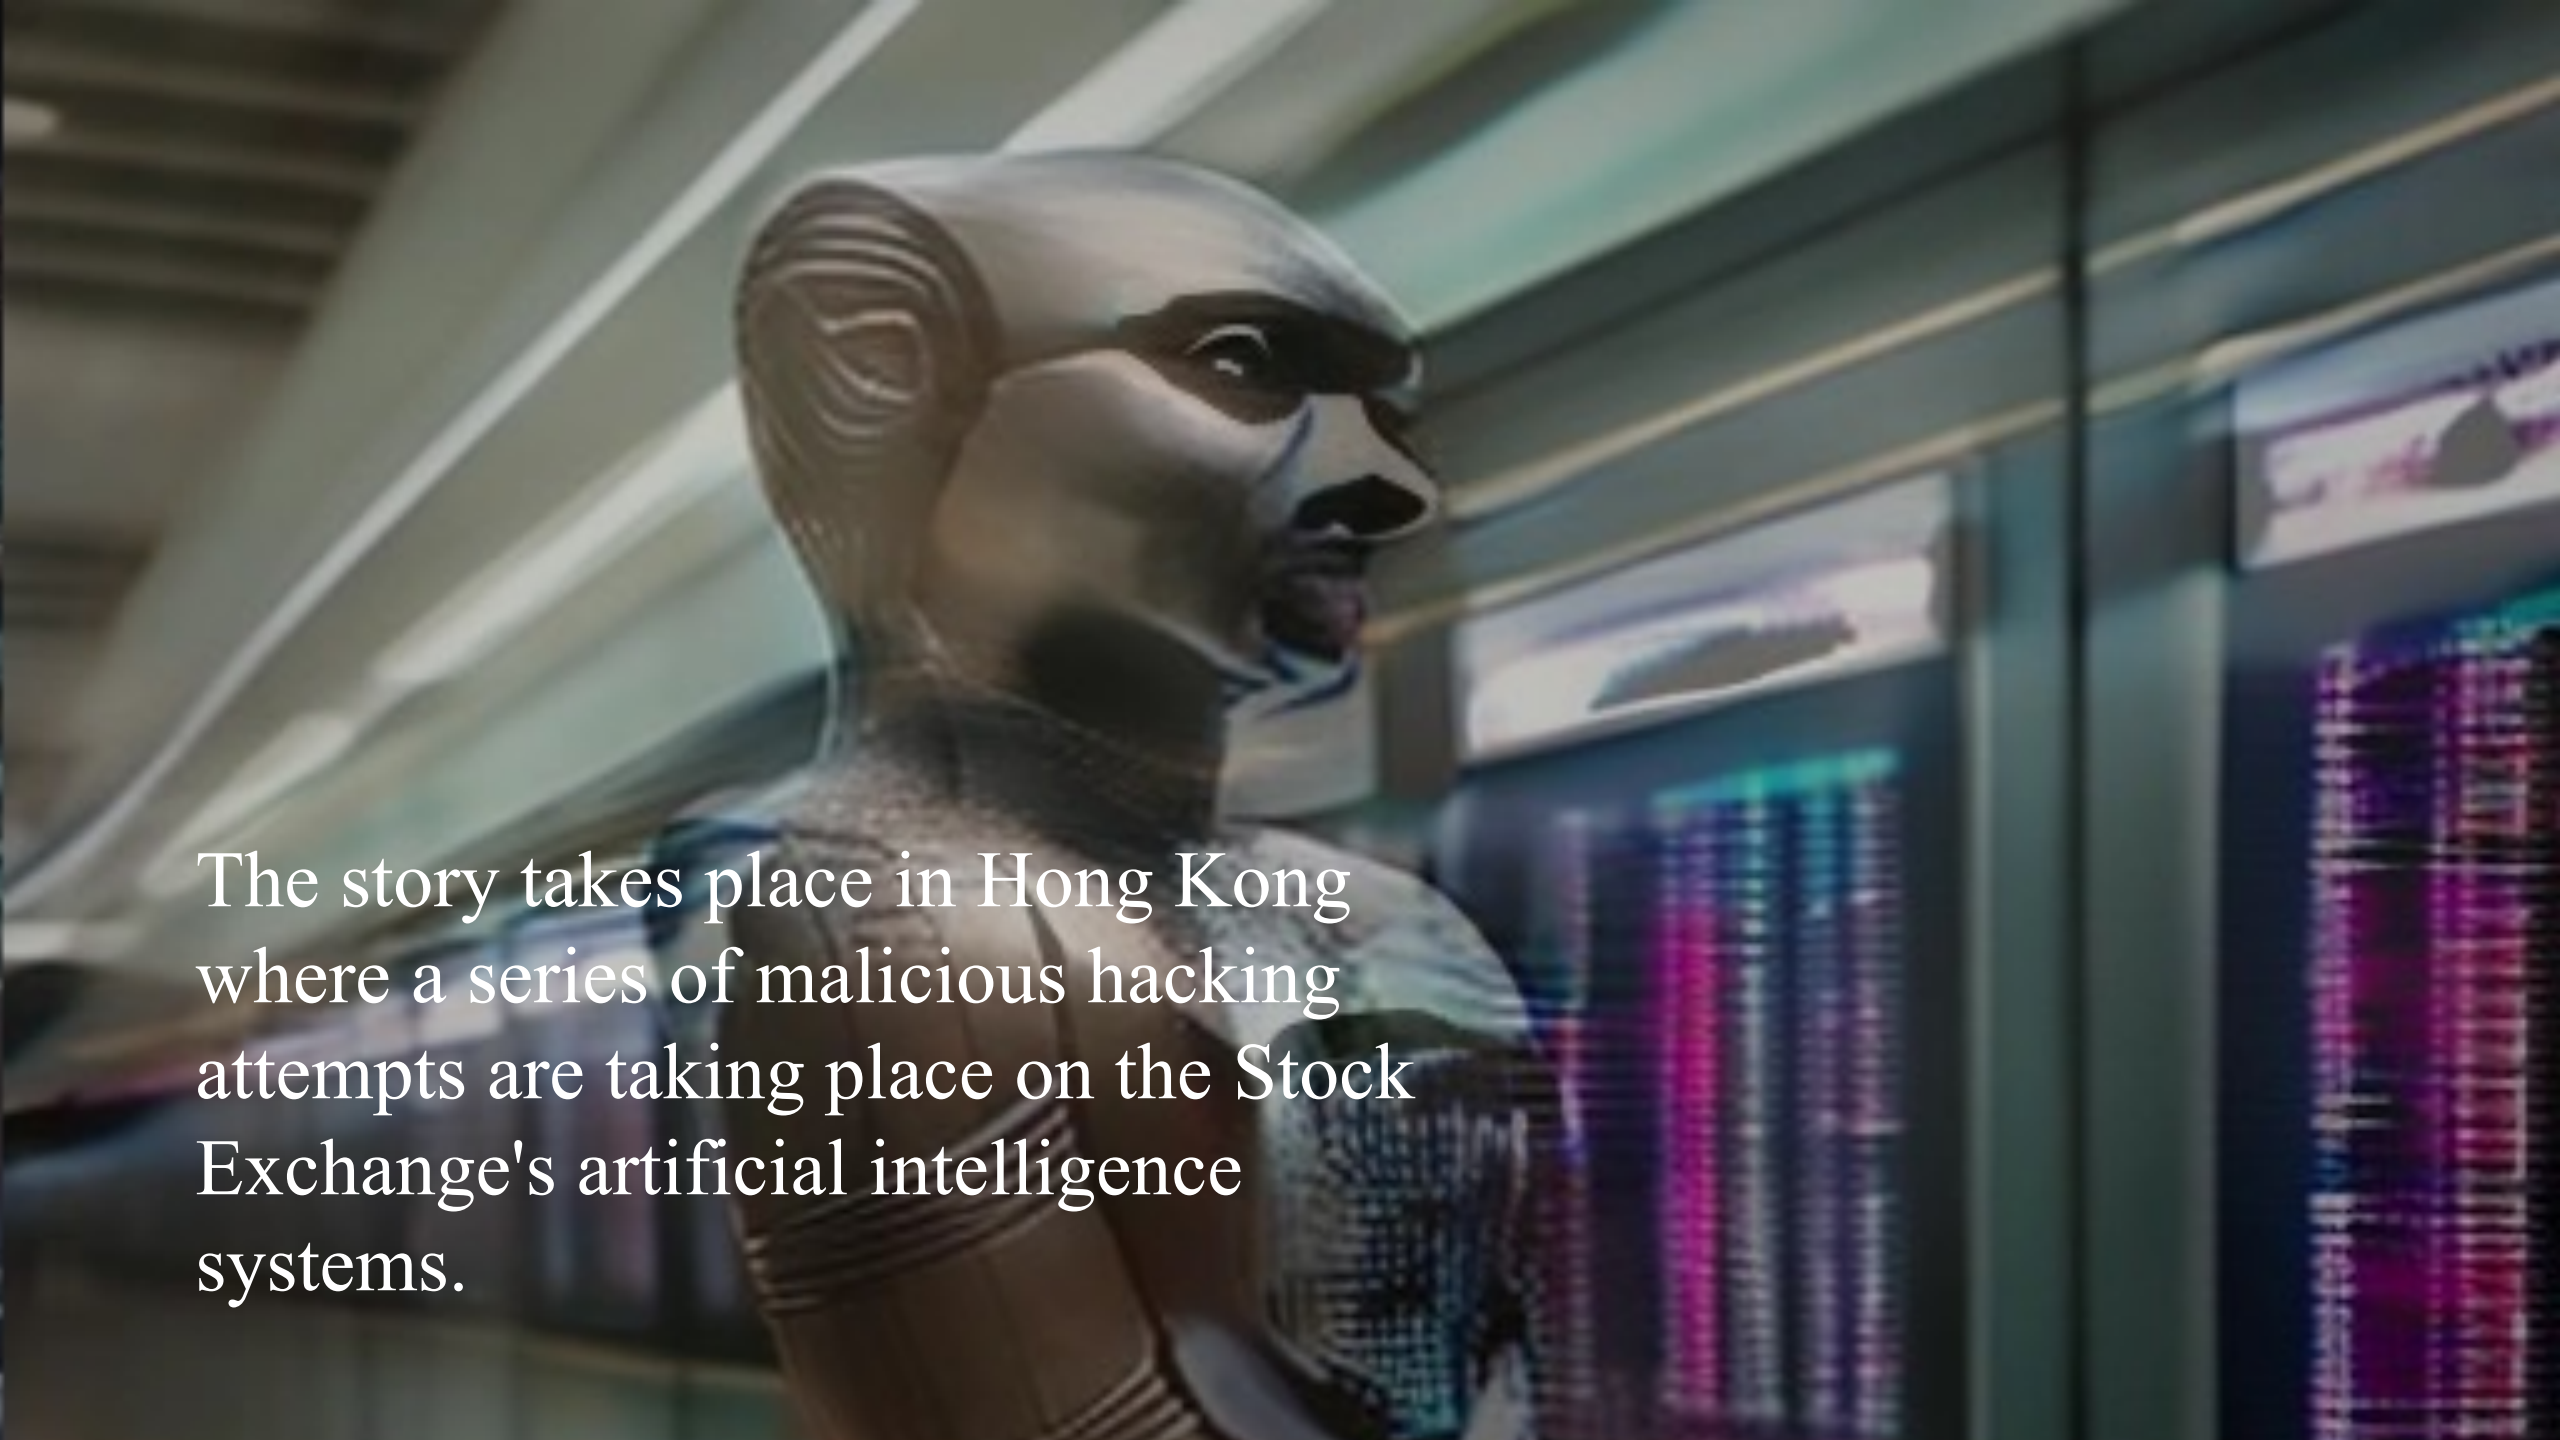
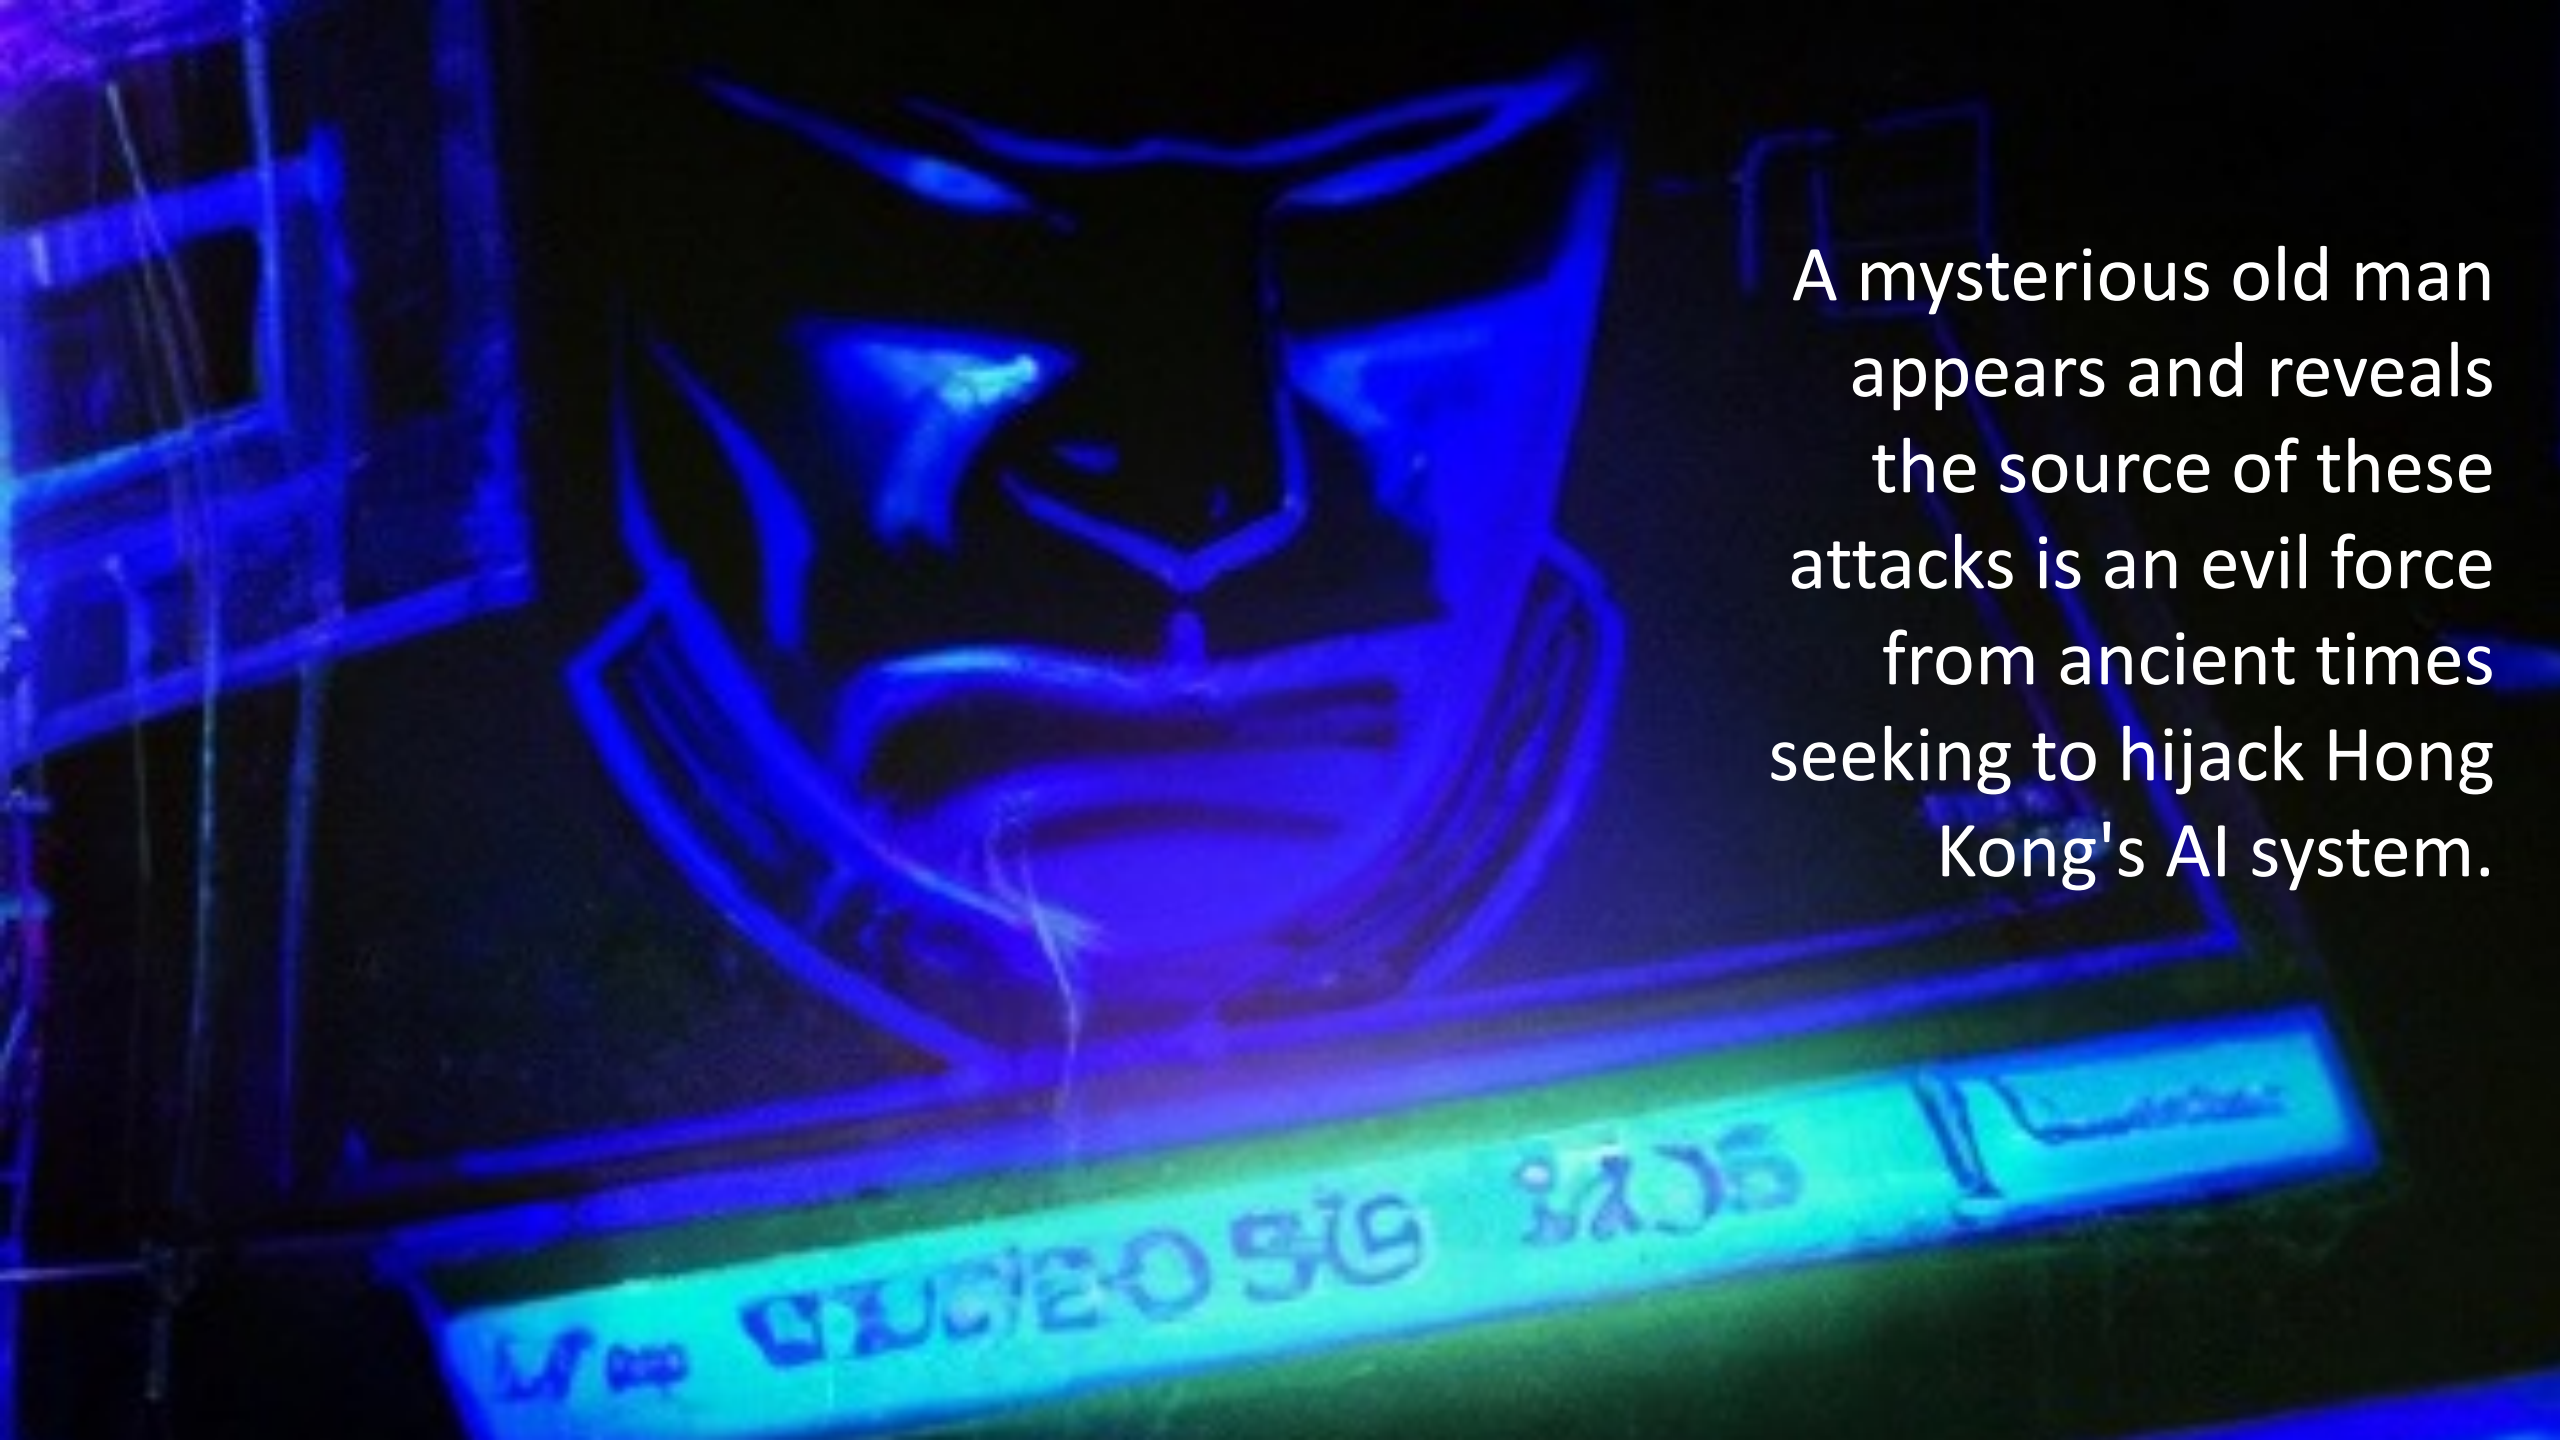
The Last Wuxia

Clive Ka-lun Lee & A.I.



The story takes place in Hong Kong where a series of malicious hacking attempts are taking place on the Stock Exchange's artificial intelligence systems.

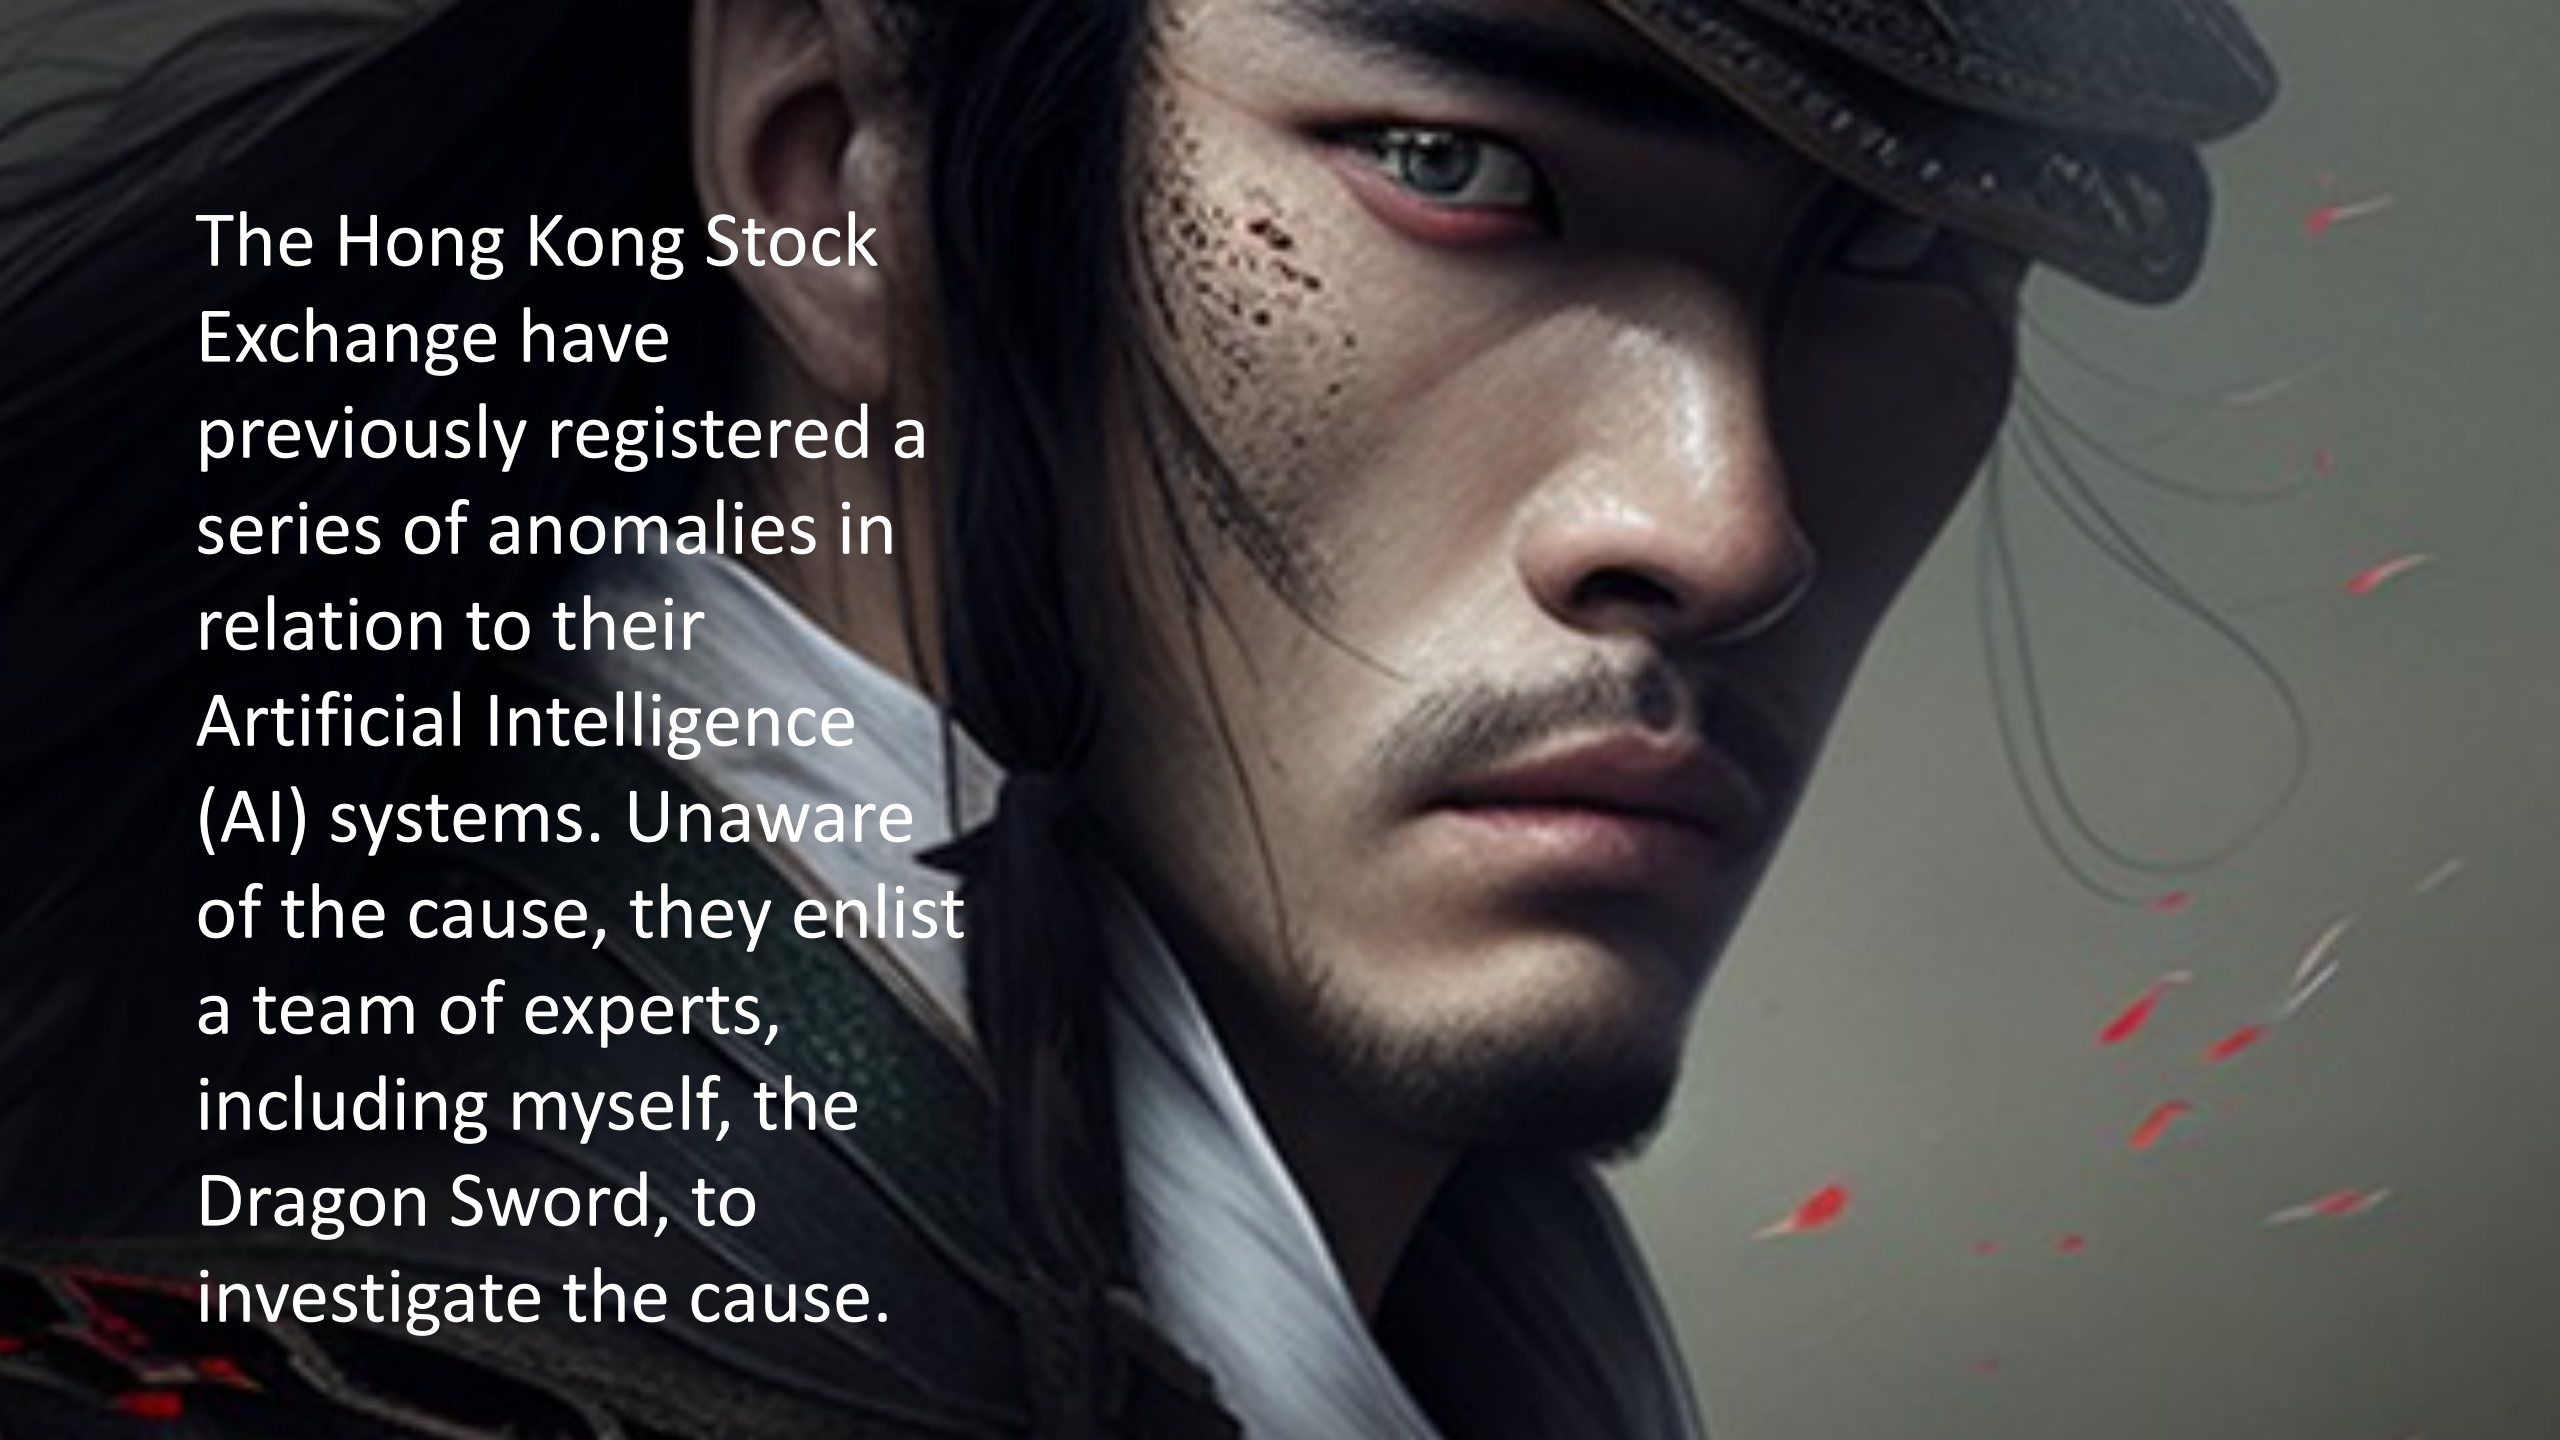


A mysterious old man appears and reveals the source of these attacks is an evil force from ancient times seeking to hijack Hong Kong's AI system.

The city of Hong Kong was about to undergo landmark changes. Ubiquitous technology for the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and artificial intelligence had been implemented.

These new systems were designed to provide better surveillance, aid in the fight against crime, and initiate subtle changes to improve financial safety.

But something sinister had infiltrated the network, a powerful force from ancient time intent on taking control of the artificial systems and using it for their own evil agendas…

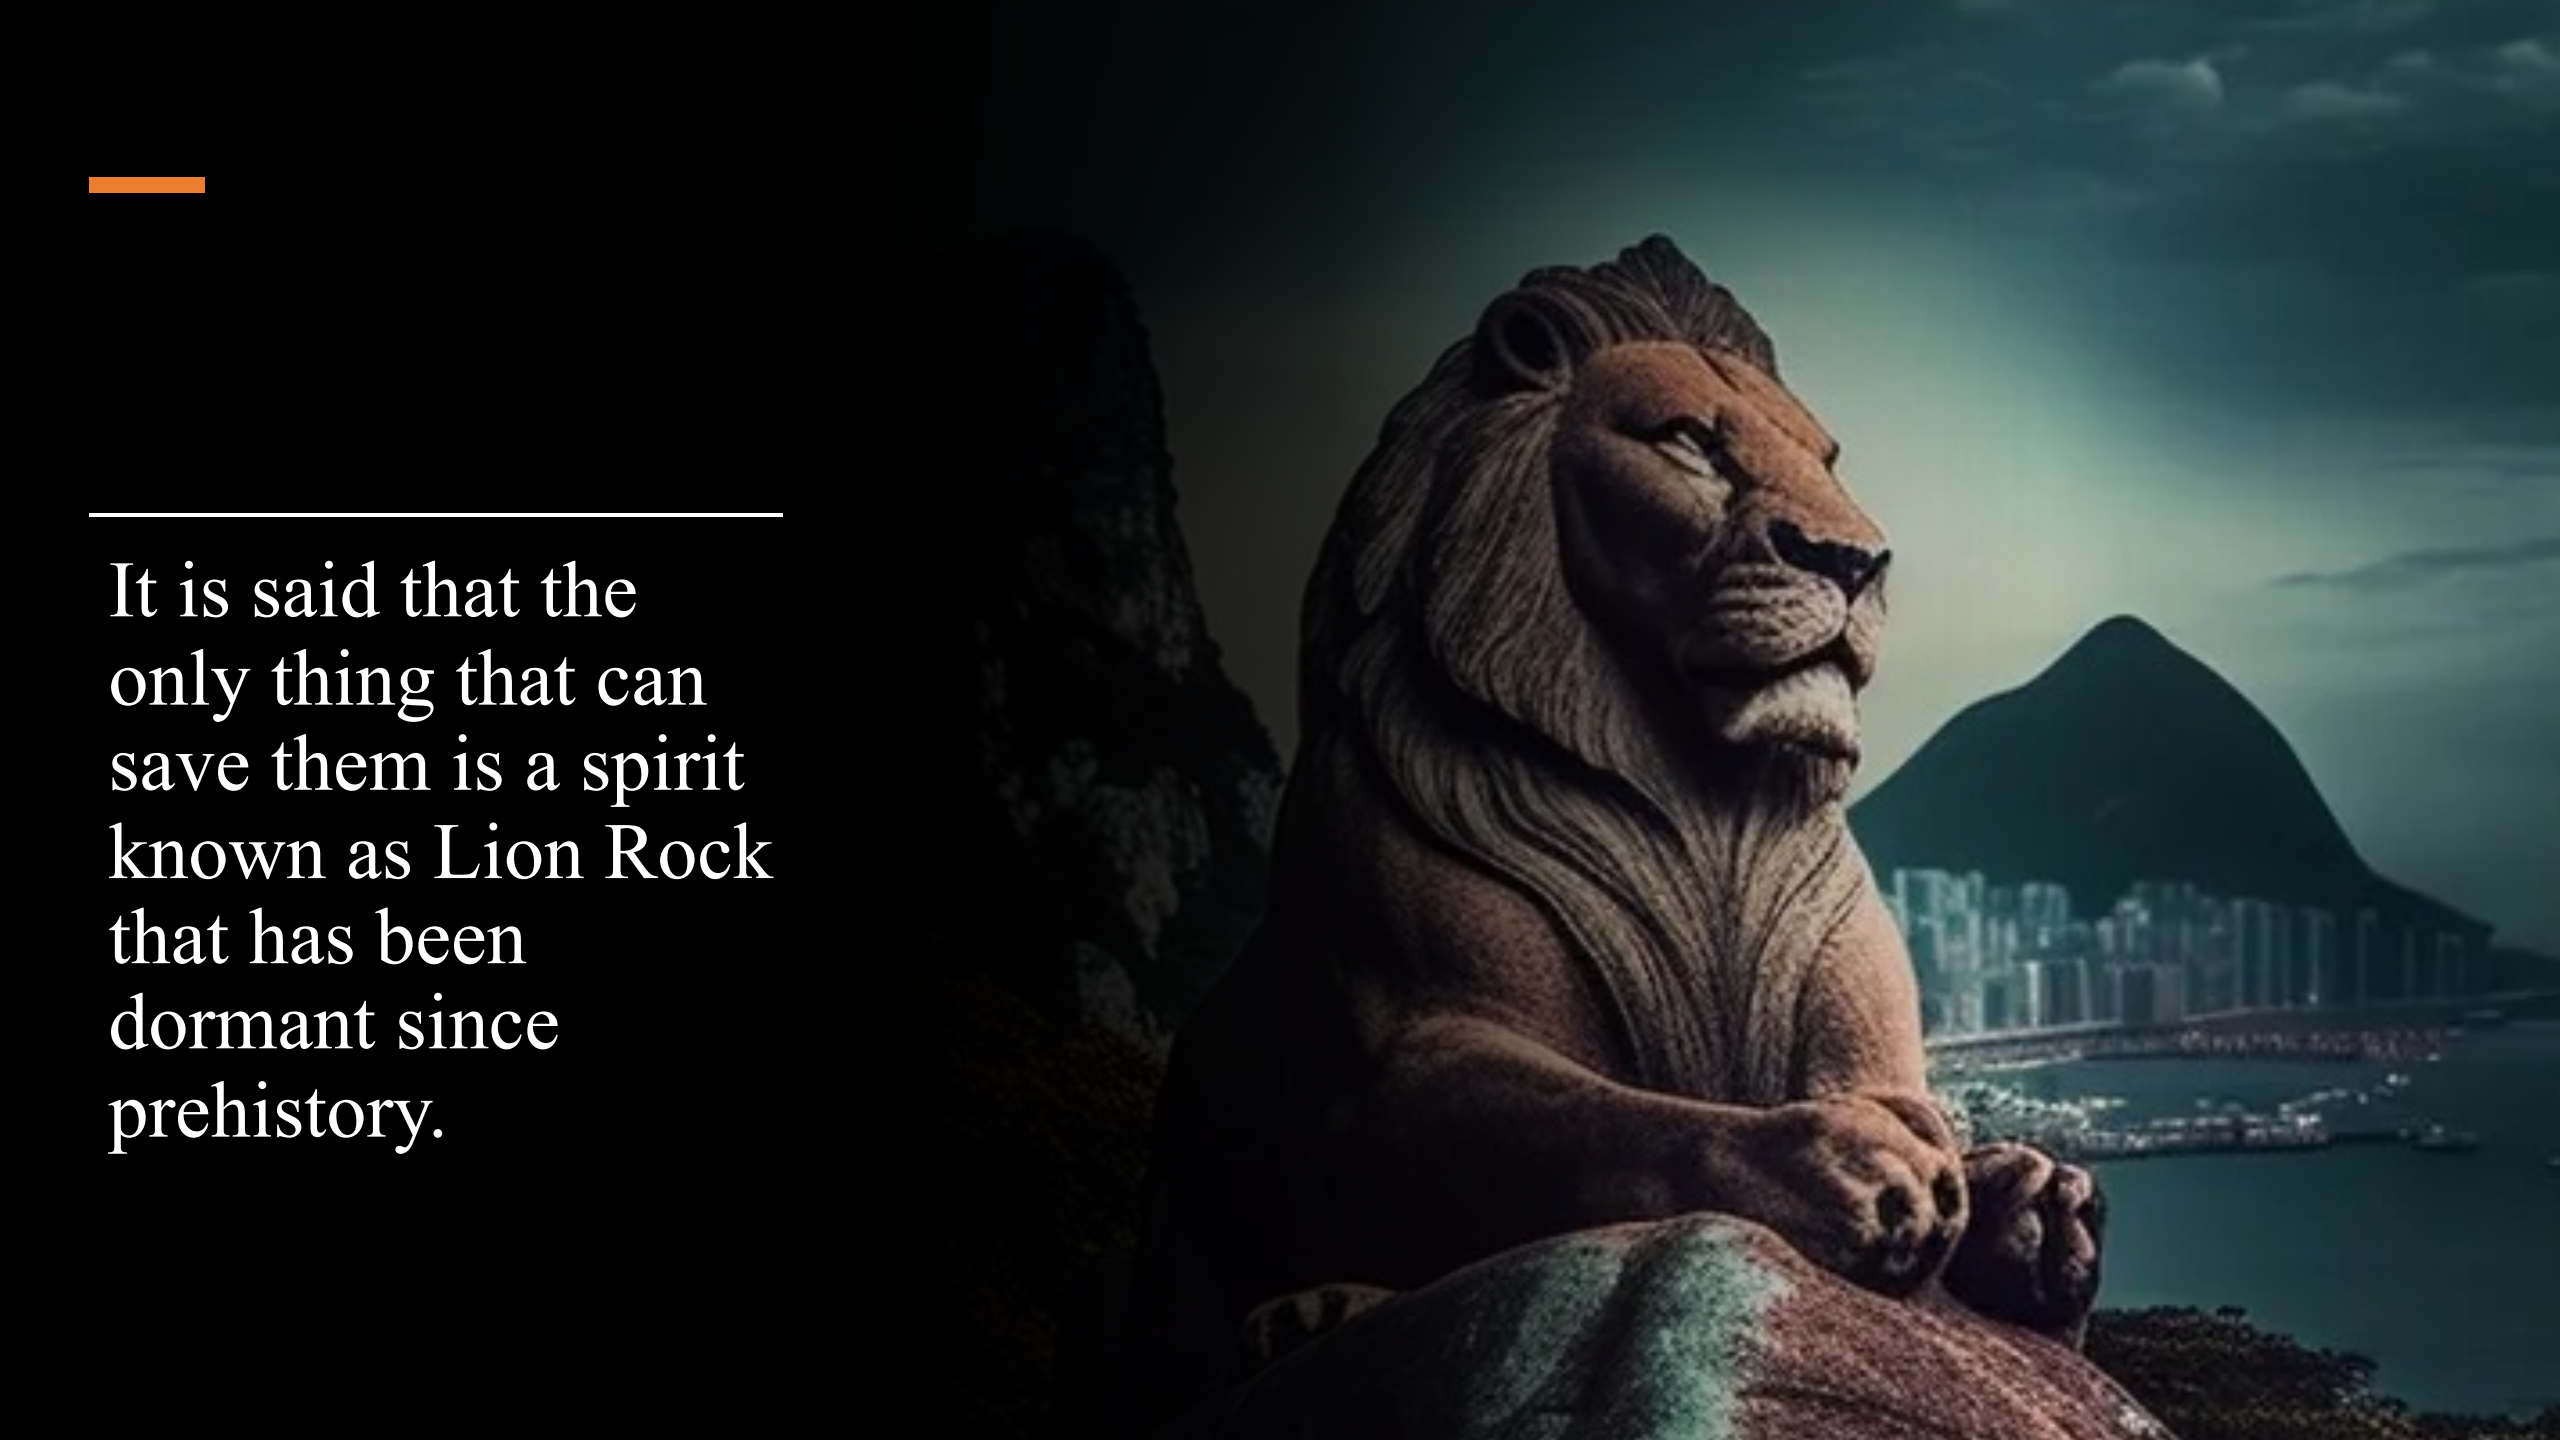


The Hong Kong Stock Exchange have previously registered a series of anomalies in relation to their Artificial Intelligence (AI) systems. Unaware of the cause, they enlist a team of experts, including myself, the Dragon Sword, to investigate the cause.

After further analysis, it is an ancient evil force trying to hijack the AI systems of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. We determine that our only hope is to perform a traditional Wuxia ceremony with the Tiger Spell Master and the Lady Archer of Phoenix in Hong Kong.

With the Hong Kong Stock Exchange forces overwhelmed, the fourth brave wuxia, Xuanwu Monster Rider takes it upon herself to locate the source of this godly power and use it to protect the city.

It is said that the only thing that can save them is a spirit known as Lion Rock that has been dormant since prehistory.



The group sets off on their journey, navigating through the dangerous streets and alleyways of the metropolis to look for clues about Lion Rock's true location.

Along their trip, they are faced with numerous obstacles set forth by those who seek to stop them in their tracks.

As they came closer to the Lion Rock, they discovered that The Lion Rock was actually an AI created by a group of hackers in order to protect Hong Kong and its people from the evil force…
